

Chapin Hall Title: Researcher

University Title: Research Project Supervisor

Reports to: Michael Schoeny, Senior Researcher

General summary:

Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago is seeking an individual to join its research team to carry out longitudinal preventive intervention research as part of a larger program of research designed to build knowledge to improve policies and programs for children, youth, families, and their communities. The Researcher conducts statistical analyses across a range of longitudinal studies, independently prepares sections of research reports and manages the operations of the data management staff.

Chapin Hall conducts policy research that improves the lives of children, their families and communities. For more information about Chapin Hall, see www.chapinhall.org

Qualifications:

Advanced degree in public health, public policy, psychology, or other relevant social science field required; a minimum of three years quantitatively-focused data analysis/management research experience required, preferably with longitudinal datasets; a minimum of two years supervision of professional research staff required; proficiency with SAS, SPSS and/or STATA program languages required; strong interest in and aptitude for developing advanced programming and analytic skills for working with longitudinal data required; ability to translate and convey complex concepts and study findings in oral and written communications required; problem-solving skills required; ability to manage multiple, concurrent tasks required; interpersonal skills required; ability to work independently with a high degree of initiative required; demonstrated capacity for working in a collaborative research environment required; knowledge of the interdisciplinary field of prevention science preferred. The successful applicant will be able to show evidence of the ability to translate substantive research questions into statistical analyses, and to translate the results of quantitative analyses into substantive conclusions. A cover letter, resume, writing sample and reference contact information are required to be considered for this position.

The selected candidate will be required to undergo a background check.

A resume, cover letter, writing sample and reference contact information are required to be considered for this position.

If you are interested in this position, please apply on-line at: <http://jobs.uchicago.edu>
Search for this posting using requisition number 083320. Applications accepted on-line only.

The Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago is an EEO/AA employer