

Psychology Department Chair

University of South Carolina

Columbia SC

CHAIR OPENING. The Psychology Department at the University of South Carolina is seeking a distinguished scholar with an active research program to chair the department. The research area of the applicant should be either child/family or neurosciences (or both). Prevention scientists are strongly encouraged to apply. An established record of extramural grant funding is required. For more information about the position and the Department, contact Professor Ron Prinz at prinz@sc.edu or (803) 777.7143.

Screening of applications will begin in late October 2009 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should send a letter of interest, detailed curriculum vitae, and the names of three references to: Professor Dan Reger, Chair, Psychology Search, c/o Office of the Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Columbia SC 29208.

The USC Psychology Department, with 45 faculty and three successful doctoral programs, averages about $7 million in annual extramural research funding. The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are especially encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation or veteran status.
