

POSITION TITLE: Instructor

EMPLOYER: Washington State University, Human Development

LOCATION (City, State): Pullman, WA

WEBSITE: hd.wsu.edu

JOB DESCRIPTION

Instructor, Human Development, Washington State University, Pullman, WA

One year, temporary appointment—Fall 2013 through Spring 2014 semester.

Start date August 16, 2013.

Required: Prior to commencing employment, earned M.A. or Ph.D. in human development, developmental psychology, or a related area. Preferred: We are particularly interested in applicants with research expertise and teaching interests in the area of adolescent development.

To apply visit: www.wsujobs.com. Be prepared to submit a letter of application, vita, copies of official transcripts, and the names and contact information for three people willing to provide current letters of recommendation. Screening Date: 3/1/2013. EEO/AA/ADA

We are a multidisciplinary department devoted to understanding the nature of human development across the lifespan. Through our teaching, research, and outreach programs, we promote the healthy development of children, adults, and their families in the state of Washington and throughout the nation. To learn more, read our mission statement.